The National Inventory of Treatment Programs for Child Sexual Abuse Offenders was first published by the Canadian Child Welfare Association in 1989. It has proven to be a useful resource and has been used by individuals and organizations across Canada. The Family Violence Prevention Division of Health and Welfare Canada provided the financial support to update and revise the 1989 listing and to make it available, through the National Clearing House on Family Violence, to individuals, organizations and government departments across the country.

All programs previously listed in the Inventory have been contacted for updated program descriptions, and an additional 1,000 individuals, agencies and government departments were contacted in an effort to locate any new treatment programs. While some of the programs listed in 1989 no longer exist, new programs have been developed in several regions.

Programs are listed by province and by city in alphabetical order. For further information on any of the programs, it is recommended that you contact the treatment program directly (telephone numbers, addresses and names of contact persons are included in the program descriptions).

I would like to thank the Family Violence Prevention Division, Health and Welfare Canada for providing funding to produce this National Inventory of Treatment Programs for Child Sexual Offenders (1993). I would also like to acknowledge the valued contributions of those individuals and organizations who completed the survey questionnaire and those who responded to requests for names and addresses of additional treatment programs in their region(s).

 Contact Person: Dan Pasley
 Target Group: All child sexual offenders.
 Referral: Alberta Social Services, Courts, lawyers, police, physicians and other agencies.
 Program Description: A community-based outpatient program. Treatment orientation is mainly individual therapy focusing on social learning, utilizing systems theory and cognitive approaches. Some groups are occasionally run, as well as marital dyads, family therapy and extended family member treatment. Other modalities of treatment include: social skills training, psychotherapy, behavioral therapy, stress reduction techniques and relationship counselling. Follow-up is provided as part of the overall program in which scheduled sessions occur six months apart. Program evaluation is conducted by the gathering of data on the clients and re-offence rates.

Program: Calgary Young Offender Sexual Offender Treatment Program

Organization: Albert Justice, Young Offender Branch

Address: Calgary Young Offender Centre
Bag 3240, Station B
Calgary, Alberta
T2M 4S9

Phone: (403) 239-8111 -
(403) 297-4523

Contact Person: Dr. Vic Grossi, Centre Psychologist

Target Group: Any young offender who has been charged with a sexual offence. The program is voluntary.

Referral: Youth Court Judges, Probation Officers, in-Centre directors, legal guardians and parents.

Program Description: Program is conducted in both the Calgary Young Offender Centre, and through community outreach within the Calgary area. Assessment includes a structured clinical psychological interview as well as current medical, psychiatric and other psychologically relevant materials. The program makes use of the various psycho-educational components such as detailed psycho-sexual history, rationalization and justification, insight and capacity for change, and focus on family and childhood. Exposure is also given to issues of anger, power, dominance, psycho-sexual dysfunction, and self-esteem. Provisions are made for follow-up in the community. Program evaluation provisions are built-in within the parameters of the treatment to assess the effectiveness of the treatment on a pre-imposed basis.

Program: Residential and Group Program

Organization: Calgary John Howard Society (Bedford House)

Address: 1010 - 1st Street S.W., #200
Calgary, Alberta
T2B 1K4

Phone: (403) 266-4566
: (403) 265-2458

Contact Person: Leslie Webb, Assistant Executive Director

Target Group: Offenders on a conditional release from correctional institutions. Participation is mandatory.

Referral: Federal and Provincial Corrections Institutions; community referrals, providing client is under supervision of Alberta Solicitor General.

Program Description: A halfway house for offenders on conditional release from correctional institutions. A variety of sex offenders are integrated into the house with others facing mental/emotional difficulties. The group treatment program accepts offenders living in other community-based facilities. Assessment takes place while offender is at the correctional institution, prior to admittance to Bedford House. All sex offenders are also referred to the Forensic Assessment & Outpatient Unit of the Calgary General Hospital for individual and/or group therapy related to sex offenses. Treatment includes a Life Management Course, which has both a therapeutic and educational component, utilizing the processes of psychodrama and sociometry to maximize learning opportunities. Generally, the course is designed to promote self-awareness and improved social and psychological functioning in the areas of family, community and employment (e.g. stress and anger management skills, problem-solving skills). A flexible approach is maintained in order that the program is made to fit the clients. Follow-up is conducted through FAOS for the duration of offenders' sentence. No program evaluation has been done.

 Referral: Solicitor General, Alberta Social Services, parents.
 Program Description: A community-based program providing both assessment and treatment. Generally treatment is conducted on an individual basis, together with family therapy. Individual therapy for the offenders is multi-modal. Some of the modalities of focus are: personal identity; sexual identity and sex role socialization; social competence; and anger control. Follow-up is provided. In-service evaluation is conducted largely by peer review, which takes place every two weeks.

Program: Sexual Offenders Program

Organization: ARCH Psychological Services
 Address: 39 Commonwealth Building
 9912 - 106 Street
 Edmonton, Alberta
 T5K 1C5
 Telephone: (403) 428-9223
 Contact Person: Dr. Al Riediger
 Target Group: All child sexual offenders and their families.
 Referral: Courts (pre- and post-sentence), community corrections, social services, community agencies, family and self-referral.
 Program Description: A private practice, community-based outpatient program offering services to incest offenders and extra-familial pedophiles, as well as adolescent sex offenders. There is an extensive assessment component. The predominant mode of treatment is psychotherapy in peer groups, individual psycho-therapy, relationship therapy in marital dyads and family therapy. Other treatment modalities include: behavioral orientation (non-aversive arousal conditioning) and social skills training. Special programs are offered for Native offenders. Training and consultation are provided to communities wanting to develop integrated child sexual assault programs. Follow-up evaluation is offered for a period of one week to one month in a process of gradual ending. However, once the file is closed, there is no further follow-up. No regulated program evaluation is in place.

Program: Adolescent Offender Program

Organization: Wurmman Egan & Associates Ltd.
Address: 10129 - 123 Street
 Edmonton, Alberta
 T5N 1N1

Telephone: (403) 482-7979

Fax: (403) 488-2569

Contact Person: Doug Egan

Target Group: Adult and adolescent sex offenders. Participation is either voluntary or referred by the Courts. Treatment is also available for children under 12 years of age who exhibit sexual behaviour problems.

Referral: Alberta Family & Social Services, Alberta Solicitor General, private, physicians.

Program Description: A community-based outpatient program in a private agency providing comprehensive assessment and treatment. Assessment includes psychological testing as well as individual and family assessment. Treatment includes: individual therapy with a focus on sex offender issues as well as other issues in adolescent life; family therapy (key component of the program); and group therapy, running in twelve-week cycles, with an evaluation at the end of each cycle. One-year follow-up is provided. No program evaluation has been done. Treatment is also available for male and female child victims and male and female adult survivors.

Program: Young Offender Assessment and Treatment Program

Organization: Institute of Psychology and Law
Address: Suite 770, First Edmonton Place
 10665 - Jasper Avenue
 Edmonton, Alberta
 T5J 3S9

Telephone: (403) 424-0054

Fax: (403) 426-0573

Contact Person: Dr. Reuben A. Lang, or Clinical Secretary

Target Group: Youth aged 12 to 18 years with mental and psychological disorders, emotional or behavioral problems (including anxiety, depression or violence), learning disabilities, and inappropriate sexual conduct with siblings or extra-familial victims.

Referral: Family and Youth Court, police, Probation, Parole, lawyers, Social Services, community agencies, hospitals, physicians, other mental health professionals, self-referral.

Program Description: A community-based outpatient program offering a systematic psychological evaluation of the adolescent offender. A wide variety of prevention, intervention and treatment strategies for male and female adolescent sex offenders, high risk youth, run away and homeless youth are available, including a gender identity clinic and special counselling for homosexual or bisexual adolescents. The treatment approach is eclectic and may combine cognitive-behavioral, insight, gestalt or rational emotive therapy, guided visualization and self-management techniques within the context of a multi-modal relapse prevention model. Offence specific case management by qualified male-female therapist teams is an integral component of all phases of the therapeutic process. Individual, family and peer group treatment interventions focus on victim awareness, empathy training, distorted thinking patterns, self-esteem enhancement, stress reduction and anger management, sex role stereotyping, heterosocial skill training, education in human sexuality and values, cognitive self-control strategies, identifying (and mastering) early warning signs or deviant cycles that signal a potential relapse, as well as victim counselling services. Built-in pre/post evaluation of program efficacy and follow-up to detect recidivism are based on a systematic approach using various objective psychometric indices, family reporting and crime statistics. Specialists are available for consultation.

Program: Children's Treatment Program

Organization: Catholic Social Services Edmonton
Address: 11316 - 130 Avenue
 Edmonton, Alberta
 T5E 0T5
Telephone: (403) 454-8515
Contact Person: Richard Berube, Vice-President
Target Group: Children aged 4 to 12 and their families.
Referral: Alberta Social Services.
Program Description: A community-based residential program providing both assessment and treatment. Sexual offending children, and those who are acting out sexually are treated along with children experiencing other emotional and behavioral problems. Assessment includes: psychological and psychiatric assessment of the child and family members; learning assessment of the child; and a detailed social and legal history of the child. Treatment includes residential, group and individual therapy for the child, as well as family therapy. Follow-up continues for three months after the child has been released from the program. Program evaluation is built-in, with a formal follow-up every three to five years.

Program: Whole Life Counselling Ltd.

Address: Box 725
 High Prairie, Alberta
 T0G 1E0
Telephone: (403) 523-3592
Contact Person: Charles R. Collett, M.A., C.Psych
Target Group: Both adult and adolescent child sexual offenders.
Referral: Social Services, family Solicitor General, physicians, self-referral.
Program Description: A community-based outpatient program providing both assessment and treatment. Assessment includes psychological assessments. Treatment is done on an individual basis (due to the small population of the area). Individual psychotherapy is eclectic in approach, using predominantly psychodynamic and cognitive therapies as well as some behavioral therapy. Family therapy is provided to deal with the relationships and dysfunctional systems and network in the family. Follow-up is not built into the program, although it is available on a voluntary basis. No formal program evaluation has been conducted as yet.

Program: Youth Assessment Centre

Organization: Alberta Family and Social Services
Address: P.O. Box 1089
 Lac La Biche, Alberta
 T0A 2C0
Telephone: (403) 623-5266
Fax: (403) 623-5364
Contact Person: Laurier Bourassa, Errol Hedin
Target Group: Emotionally/behaviorally disturbed male and female adolescents requiring a residential treatment program. Clients must have AF&SS status and may be voluntary or mandatory (secure treatment).
Referral: AF&SS North East Region Placement Committee or Provincial Court.
Program Description: The main program is residential in the community of Lac La Biche. However, there is also a Community Support Program and a Group Home in St. Paul, Alberta. All three are available to AF&SS clients throughout North-eastern Alberta. In most cases assessment will have been completed prior to admission to the program. However, psychological, academic, behaviour/social and drug/alcohol abuse assessments are available as required. The program is eclectic in approach using a variety of treatment modalities based on individualized treatment plans. Group and individual counselling are available by trained child care staff. Behaviour modification, milieu therapy, positive peer culture, reality therapy, Gestalt therapy, as well as other interventions may be used. Activity programming is also an important treatment modality. Follow-up support is available with interventions and duration is dependent upon individual needs. An evaluation component is built-into the program through feedback from clients, clients' families and social workers.

Program: Community Sex Offender Program

Organization: Correctional Service Canada
Fraser Valley Parole District

Address: 33119 South Fraser Way, #200
Abbotsford, British Columbia
V2S 2B1

Telephone: (604) 853-7781

Contact Person: Paul Jacks, District Director

Target Group: Federal parolees having been sentenced to two years and a day.

Referral: Adult Federal Parole.

Program Description: Four outpatient programs serving the Lower Fraser Valley. Both assessment and treatment are provided. Group and individual treatment orientation is fundamentally a control and monitoring of the offenders' activities in the community and includes cognitive-behavioral training. Training sessions include: communication skills; self-esteem enhancement; cognitive awareness; and impulse control. Ongoing supervision is provided in face-to-face interviews. Both formal and informal evaluations have been done.

Program: Personality Disorder Treatment Program for Sex Offenders

Organization: Correctional Services of Canada

Address: Regional Psychiatric Centre
P.O. Box 3000
Abbotsford, British Columbia
V2S 4P4

Telephone: (604) 683-7464

Contact Person: Dr. Carson Smiley, Dr. J. Brink

Target Group: Motivated adult paedophiliac and sexually aggressive sex offenders. Twelve bed program is available on another unit for offenders with extremely low IQs.

Referral: Voluntary/referred from the seven other Federal Institutions in British Columbia.

Program Description: An inpatient treatment program operated out of an accredited Mental Hospital within a maximum security prison system. Outpatient services are also provided. Treatment orientation follows an interactionist model with biological treatment (cyproterone acetate). Other treatment modalities include: insight-oriented group therapy; non-aversal arousal conditioning (behavioral therapy); assertiveness training; sociosexual education; sex education; stress management; communication skills; cognitive awareness; victim understanding; and crime cycle. Post-release visits are available to graduates. Graduates of the program are placed back into the parent institution. Where graduates are released back into the community, they are obliged to enter a community-based sex offender program. Some follow-up is also provided by the nursing management staff. Program evaluation has been undertaken based on recidivism rates and using a double control study. Intensive Programs for the Personality Disordered Sex Offender are also provided at both Mountain and Mission Institutions.

Program: Paraphilia Treatment Program

Organization: Juvenile Services to the Courts
Forensic Psychiatric Services

Address: 3405 Willingdon Avenue
Burnaby, British Columbia
V5G 3H4

Telephone: (604) 660-5788

Target Group: Provincially incarcerated sex offenders.

Referral: Institution Classification Officers.

Program Description: The B.C. Corrections Branch, in cooperation with Forensic Psychiatric Services, offers a comprehensive treatment program for a maximum 59 adult male sex offenders at Stave Lake Correctional Centre, an open security work camp located in Mission, B.C. The management/treatment approach is predicated on the view that the inmate's sexual offending is the culmination of difficulties in a wide variety of areas (e.g. emotional, cognitive, behavioral). The program, therefore, offers a broad range of interventions designed to address related issues such as: low self-esteem, social skills deficits, cognitive distortions, limited leisure interests, etc. Program components include both individual and group therapy as well as more didactic modules (e.g. relapse prevention, thinking errors, victim empathy, life skills, etc). Program staff also recognize the need for careful release planning and close communication with those individuals and agencies that will continue to work with the offender after returning to the community.

Organization: Justice, Community & Youth Corrections
North District Probation

Address: 77A Redwood Avenue
Winnipeg, Manitoba
R2W 2J5

Telephone: (204) 945-7187

Contact Person: Garry Hindle

Target Group: Adult male sexual offenders who have offended against children.

Referral: All are on probation with conditions that they attend for treatment as required by a probation officer.

Program Description: Both one-to-one and group programming are offered. The offender must accept responsibility for his offence, without minimizing or projecting the blame onto others. Screening is intensive and the offender must demonstrate some commitment to being involved in the program. The treatment model has evolved into an offence specific intervention. Treatment includes: educational, and a cognitive-behavioral approach. The goal is to help the offender break their cycle of offending behaviour by identifying and controlling their arousal pattern and learning how to solve non-sexual problems in non-sexual ways. The group process also helps restore self-esteem, self-awareness, and develops mutual concern and empathy for other group members. A research component has been built into the program, using the following scales to measure change: the Index of Self-esteem (Hudson), Abel and Becker Cognition Scale, and an attitude toward women scale. Results should be available in the fall of 1993.

Target Group: Adult sexual offenders on probation. Treatment is mandatory where required by Probation Order. Voluntary participation is encouraged if not Court-ordered.

Referral: Court-ordered probation supervision.

Program Description: A community-based outpatient program located in the Probation office. Assessment is focused on the degree of acceptance of responsibility and on amenability/readiness for the group program. The primary intervention is based on the Relapse Prevention Model for sex offenders as developed by Pithers, Nelson and Marlott. Clients are required to complete a "core" relapse prevention program (minimum 6 months) within a group-based format. Clients are assigned to a less intensive second-level program after the core relapse prevention group. Focus is on skill practice and behavioral monitoring until expiration of probation order. An evaluative component remains in development. Evaluation will focus on individual behaviour change and overall group effectiveness.

Target Group: Offenders (male, female, adult, youth) who are sentenced to probation or custody for a sexual offence.

Referral: Courts.

Program Description: Sexual offenders programs are provided in Community Corrections regions and at two youth custody institutions. Assessment is designed to be inclusive rather than exclusive (i.e. to admit to program whenever possible rather than to screen out). Offenders are assessed for being amenable to treatment, ability to take some degree of responsibility for the offence and ability to disclose the offence with some degree of openness. Treatment is sex offender specific, based on the Residential Adolescent Sex Offender Treatment Program Guidelines of Jonathan E. Ross, the Positive Peer Culture Methodology of Harry H. Vorath and Larry K. Brendtro, victim awareness, anger management, alcohol and drug program, and the Thinking Errors program.

Telephone: (709) 634-1301

Contact Person: Stephen Pinsent

Target Group: Sex offenders and victims.

Referral: Other professionals, self-referral, lawyers.

Program Description: An independent private practice providing assessment through self-reports from the offenders of sexual activities with victims after they have obtained legal counsel for sex offence charges. Treatment orientation is primarily cognitive and emphasizes thoughts, feelings, behaviour and interactions, with the aim of client self-control. The major approach deals with the details of the offence and the client's perceptions of the effect of behaviour on the victim and significant others. Aspects of the client's sexual history, both normal and deviant, are assessed. Follow-up depends on the referring agency or on EAP program terms. Program evaluation is based on client self-reports and reports from victims and significant others.

Target Group: Adolescent male and female offenders; male adult offenders. Participation may be voluntary or mandatory.

Referral: Children's Aid Society, Mental Health, Probation, Parole.

Program Description: A community-based multi-agency network outpatient program providing both assessment and treatment for offenders. The primary treatment orientation is cognitive restructuring, with victim-focused group work and the offender's acknowledgement of the offence. Other treatment modalities include: psycho-educational counselling, emotional and cognitive restructuring to assume responsibility, contributing factors that lead to abuse, recognizing danger stages, and trying alternative routes. This is an open-ended approach which encourages clients to get in touch with their own victimization, their feelings, and social relationships. The program also attempts to actively involve a significant other in treatment. All referrals have a case manager who is responsible for follow-up. An ongoing evaluation is currently being developed using subjective individual interviews.

Program Description: This program is part of a province-wide community-based outpatient program located in a Mental Health Clinic. Community Mental Health Services presently offers assessment and treatment to adult sex offenders through the Montague Clinic. Most offenders seen in this program reside in King's or Queen's County areas. Services to other parts of the province are sometimes provided on a consultative basis. Assessment includes: risk of re-offending, offence pattern, motivation for offence, deviant arousal patterns and suitability for program. Treatment is provided in a 16 week program consisting primarily of weekly group therapy sessions aimed at both control and rehabilitation. Group therapy is supplemented with individual, marital and family therapy as needed. Offenders are instructed in relapse prevention and, where applicable, this is reinforced on a follow-up basis by probation officers. A strong emphasis is placed on accountability and sensitivity to the needs of the victim. Follow-up is done using a relapse prevention model by probation officers. No program evaluation has been done.

Program: Traitement pour abus sexuel

Organization: Centre de protection de l'enfance et de la jeunesse

Address: 1010, de Sérigny
Longueuil, Québec
J4K 5G7

Telephone: (514) 679-0140
(514) 679-3731

Contact Person: Sonia Aronow, Clinical Coordinator

Target Group: Sexual offenders. Participation is voluntary according to the Loi sur la protection des enfants, but may be ordered by the Criminal Court.

Referral: Description given to the child protection agency.

Program Description: Program offered at the Centre de protection de l'enfance et de la jeunesse. Evaluation of the patient involves assessment-counselling service, group counselling, group therapy. Adult abusers that cannot benefit from the program are referred to outside resources (i.e. Pinel, psychiatry). Treatment consists of 36 sessions based on four thematic blocks: actions and their consequences; family history; present lifestyle; and recidivism prevention. The program has two main objectives: to make offenders aware of the damage they caused and to provide them with tools to control themselves. A child protection worker ensures that all family members participate in the intervention plan and a probation officer monitors the situation until the order expires. Treatment is assessed after all the sessions are done. A personalized assessment is made for each abuser who is advised of specific requirements at the end of the last thematic block.

Program: Adolescent Sexual Offender Treatment Program

Organization: MacNeill Clinic, Saskatchewan Mental Health Services Branch

Address: 912 Idylwyld Drive
Saskatoon, Saskatchewan
S7L 0Z6

Phone: (306) 933-5800

Contact Person: Dr. Jim Arnold, Gary A. Bridge, Brian McDonald

Target Group: Adolescent sex offenders.

Referral: Youth Court, youth workers (Probation), police, lawyers, schools, other agencies.

Program Description: An outpatient program within a children's mental health centre. Preferred intake involves Youth Court referral for Court-ordered psychological assessment. Work with uncharged offenders and their families usually involves encouraging charges to be laid. Assessment includes: sexual history; clinical interviews; psychological testing; family assessment; and collateral information (e.g. police reports, victim statements). Successful completion of an Intake Group is the prerequisite to all further treatment. The Intake Group is a closed-ended eight week psycho-educational package regarding offence disclosure, psychological characteristics of offenders, victim empathy and relapse prevention. Following the Intake Group, treatment emphasis is on group psychotherapy. Groups are open-ended; participants typically participate from 10 months to two years. Individual therapy tends to be targeted to specific issues (e.g. arousal control, anxiety management, developmental issues). Families and other workers are encouraged to participate in the supervision and monitoring components of the program. Family therapy is also available. Follow-up is provided for as long as the participant is subject to Court-order or is voluntarily willing to participate. Program evaluation is under way. The program provides consultation, community and professional education, and workshops on request.

Target Group: Adolescent boys ages 12 to 18. Participation is both mandatory and voluntary.

Referral: Courts, family, youth service workers and outside agencies.

Program Description: A residential program with an assessment component consisting of stabilization and short term assessment. Treatment orientation is that developed by Ross and Loss and Associates. Sex offender treatment approach includes individual treatment programs and group behavioral work. Follow-up is provided through probation services. There is an ongoing informal program evaluation in place.

Program: Christian Counselling Services

Address: 1125 Louise Avenue
Saskatoon, Saskatchewan
S7H 2P8

Telephone: (306) 244-9890

Contact Person: Grant Schapansky

Target Group: Adult and adolescent sex offenders. Those who perpetually deny the offence are excluded.

Referral: Department of Social Services, churches, doctors, and self-referral (voluntary and mandated).

Program Description: A community-based outpatient program providing individual therapy. This agency also refers clients to concurrent group treatment in Saskatoon. Individual psychotherapy follows an addictions perspective focusing on the roots of compulsive behaviour, communication skills, alternative coping strategies, and sex education. Child Protection Services or a social worker are usually involved and provide follow-up. Other than peer-review, no program evaluation has been conducted.

Program: Sex Offender Treatment Unit

Organization: Regional Psychiatric Centre

Address: P.O. Box 9243
Saskatoon, Saskatchewan
S7K 3X5

Telephone: (306) 975-4375

Fax: (306) 975-6024

Contact Person: Dr. Terry Nicholaichuck

Target Group: Sex offenders.

Referral: Federal inmates. Participation is voluntary.

Program Description: An inpatient program situated within a fully accredited forensic hospital in a Correctional Service of Canada Institution. Pre-groups are offered for the intellectually impaired. A comprehensive assessment component is provided, including sexual preference measurements. A closed program, there are a large number of group and individual treatment modules, some groups being compulsory and others being individually assigned. Treatment orientation is cognitive-behavioral. Treatment focuses on social skills, anger and stress management, sexuality and relationships, attitudes toward women and children, dysfunctional families, their own sexual victimization, sexual deviance patterns, empathy training, as well as drug and alcohol group work. There is a limited outpatient follow-up. A formal evaluation is in place which assesses recidivism rates as well as subjective feedback.

Introduction

The National Inventory of Treatment Programs for Child Sexual Abuse Offenders was first published by the Canadian Child Welfare Association in 1989. It has proven to be a useful resource and has been used by individuals and organizations across Canada. The Family Violence Prevention Division of Health Canada provided the financial support to update and revise the 1989, 1993 and 1996 listings and to make it available, through the National Clearinghouse on Family Violence, to individuals, organizations and government departments across the country.

All programs previously listed in the Inventory have been contacted for updated program descriptions, and an additional 550 individuals, agencies and government departments were contacted in an effort to locate any new treatment programs. While some of the programs previously listed no longer exist, new programs have been developed in some regions and are identified in the following pages by an asterisk.

Programs are listed by province and city in alphabetical order. For further information on any of the programs, it is recommended that you contact the treatment program directly (telephone numbers, addresses and names of contact persons are included in the program descriptions).

The length of stay in the program can be from eight to twenty months. Individual and group therapy are provided by a clinical psychologist, with experienced front-line staff. Follow-up includes telephone calls to social workers and direct contact with youth on a regular basis. A formal evaluation has been conducted, resulting in the publication, The Phoenix Program — Difficult to Serve Adolescent Sexual Offender Project, which is available from The Phoenix Program.

PROGRAM:	Calgary Young Offender Sexual Offender Treatment Program
ORGANIZATION:	Albert Justice, Young Offender Branch
ADDRESS:	Calgary Young Offender Centre Bag 3240, Station B Calgary, Alberta T2M 4S9
TELEPHONE:	(403) 239-8111
FAX:	(403) 297-4523
CONTACT PERSON:	Dr. Vic Grossi, Centre Psychologist
TARGET GROUP:	Any young offender who has been charged with a sexual offence. The program is voluntary.
REFERRAL:	Youth Court Judges, Probation Officers, in-Centre directors, legal guardians and parents.
PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:	Program is conducted in both the Calgary Young Offender Centre, and through community outreach within the Calgary area. Assessment includes a structured clinical psychological interview as well as current medical, psychiatric and other psychologically relevant materials. The program makes use of the various psycho-educational components such as detailed psycho-sexual history, rationalization and justification, insight and capacity for change, and focus on family and childhood. Exposure is also given to issues of anger, power, dominance, psycho-sexual dysfunction, and self-esteem. Provisions are made for follow-up in the community. Program evaluation provisions are built-in within the parameters of the treatment to assess the effectiveness of the treatment on a pre-imposed basis.

PROGRAM: Residential and Group Program (Halfway House)
ORGANIZATION: Calgary John Howard Society, Bedford House
ADDRESS: 615 — 13th Avenue S.E.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A halfway house for offenders on conditional release from correctional institutions. A variety of sex offenders are integrated into the house with others facing mental/emotional difficulties. The group treatment program accepts offenders living in other community-based facilities. Assessment takes place while offender is at the correctional institution, prior to admittance to Bedford House. All sex offenders are also referred to the Forensic Assessment & Outpatient Unit of the Calgary General Hospital for individual and/or group therapy related to sex offences. Treatment includes a life management course, which has both a therapeutic and educational component, utilizing the processes of psychodrama and sociometry to maximize learning opportunities. Generally, the course is designed to promote self-awareness and improved social and psychological functioning in the areas of family, community and employment (e.g. stress and anger management skills, problem-solving skills). A flexible approach is maintained in order that the program is made to fit the clients. Sex offenders may be referred to other agencies (e.g. Choices, a substance abuse program, which is operated by the John Howard Society). Follow-up is conducted through FAOS for the duration of offenders' sentence. No program evaluation has been done.

REFERRAL: Family and Youth Court, police, Probation, Parole, lawyers, Social Services, community agencies, hospitals, physicians, other mental health professionals, self-referral.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A community-based outpatient program offering a systematic psychological evaluation. A variety of prevention, intervention and treatment strategies for male and female adolescent offenders, high risk youth, run away and homeless youth are available, including a gender identity clinic and special counselling for homosexual or bisexual adolescents. The treatment approach is eclectic and may combine cognitive-behavioural, insight, gestalt or rational emotive therapy, guided visualization and self-management within the context of a multi-modal relapse prevention model. Case management by qualified male-female therapist teams is an integral component of the therapeutic process. Individual, family and peer group treatment focus on victim awareness, empathy training, distorted thinking, self-esteem, stress reduction, anger management, sex role stereotyping, hetero-social skills, education in sexuality/values, cognitive self-control, identifying/mastering early warning signs or deviant cycles signalling a potential relapse, and victim counselling services. Built-in pre/post evaluation of program and follow-up to detect recidivism are based on a systematic approach using various objective psychometric indices, family reporting and crime statistics.

TARGET GROUP: Emotionally/behaviourally disturbed male and female adolescents requiring a residential treatment program. Clients must have AF&SS status and may be voluntary or mandatory (secure treatment).

REFERRAL: AF&SS North East Region Placement Committee or Provincial Court.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: The main program is residential in the community of Lac La Biche. However, there is also a Community Support Program and a Group Home in St. Paul, Alberta. All three are available to AF&SS clients throughout North-eastern Alberta. In most cases assessment will have been completed prior to admission to the program. However, psychological, academic, behaviour/social and drug/alcohol abuse assessments are available as required. The program is eclectic in approach using a variety of treatment modalities based on individualized treatment plans. Group and individual counselling are available by trained child care staff. Behaviour modification, milieu therapy, positive peer culture, reality therapy, Gestalt therapy, as well as other interventions may be used. Activity programming is also an important treatment modality. Follow-up support is available with interventions and duration is dependent upon individual needs. An evaluation component is built-into the program through feedback from clients, clients' families and social workers.

REFERRAL: Child Welfare, through a Placement Committee.

PROGRAM
DESCRIPTION: A residential treatment centre providing a 24-hour interdisciplinary psychotherapeutic treatment program. The program consists of specialized individual, group and family counselling, which occurs within a highly structured, supervised, therapeutic milieu in which the young person learns life-long self-management of offending and victim behaviours. Sexuality issues are openly discussed, negotiated and normalized. Assessment, treatment and relapse prevention services are provided. Relapse prevention groups are offered to support the child prior to and following discharge. Community care counsellors stay involved with the youth and family from the point of intake, through treatment and following discharge to support the child's gains made in treatment. An Adolescent Sexual Perpetrators Assessment and Treatment Manual was developed by Sifton Children's Centre in conjunction with Dr. Gary Brayton, trainer and consultant.

FAX: (604) 854-8735

CONTACT PERSON: Paul Jacks, District Director

TARGET GROUP: Federal parolees having been sentenced to two years and a day.
REFERRAL: Parole officers.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: Four outpatient programs serving the Lower Fraser Valley. Two groups are located in Abbotsford, one in Surrey and the other in Chilliwack. Both assessment and treatment are provided. Group and individual treatment orientation is focused primarily on relapse prevention, serving as a control and monitoring of the offenders' activities in the community. The groups are cognitive-behavioural in nature and provide training in development of crime cycles and relapse prevention strategies, if not already completed in the institutional treatment programs. Other training includes modules in communication skills; self-esteem enhancement; cognitive awareness and distortions; sexuality and impulse control. In addition to the weekly group, each offender is seen on an individual basis by the psychologist at least once every six weeks and more often if deemed necessary. Weekly group attendance and active participation in the groups is mandatory for all sex offenders until warrant expiry. In addition, weekly face-to-face supervision with a parole officer and monthly police reporting is required. Failure to abide by such conditions could result in the offender's suspension. Both formal and informal evaluations have been done.

TARGET GROUP: Adolescent sex offenders convicted under the YOA and referred for treatment by judges and/or probation officers under a probation order. Participation is voluntary but courts, probation officers and families generally place considerable pressure on adolescents to participate.

REFERRAL: Courts and probation services through the province of B.C.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: An community-based program offering out-patient services and in-custody treatment programs for adolescent offenders in Burnaby, Prince George, Victoria and Kamloops. Relapse prevention programs are offered in many sites throughout the province. Assessment includes full psychiatric and psychological evaluation including: personality measurement, intellectual assessment and specific assessments for deviant sexual arousal disorders. Sexual physiological assessment is done prior to and at completion of therapy. Hormonal profiles are routinely obtained. Group and individual treatment are offered. Heavy emphasis is placed on cognitive-behavioural programs, with covert sensitization or other forms of behavioural therapy. Group therapy focuses on empathy enhancement, sexual education, problem-solving, social skills, relapse-prevention, as well as treatment of any comorbid disorders, such as ADD. Length of program varies from six to 12 months. Follow-up is provided to the adolescent's home through contracted services across the province. Relapse-prevention strategies are primarily recommended. Ongoing evaluation of the program has continued since 1995, using recidivism measures in conjunction with a variety of predictor variables. The latest evaluation is of 53 months mean duration and indicates a mean sexual offence recidivism of approximately 10 to 12% over the 53-month period.

PROGRAM
DESCRIPTION: The B.C. Corrections Branch, in cooperation with Forensic Psychiatric Services, offers a comprehensive treatment program for a maximum 60 adult male sex offenders at Stave Lake Correctional Centre, an open security work camp located in the District of Mission, B.C. The management/treatment approach is predicated on the view that the inmate's sexual offending is the culmination of difficulties in a wide variety of areas (e.g. emotional, cognitive, behavioural). The program, therefore, offers a broad range of interventions designed to address related issues such as: low self-esteem, social skills deficits, cognitive distortions, limited leisure interests, etc. Program components include both individual and group therapy as well as more didactic modules (e.g. relapse prevention, thinking errors, victim empathy, life skills, etc). Program staff also recognize the need for careful release planning and close communication with those individuals and agencies that will continue to work with the offender after returning to the community.

TARGET GROUP: Adults charged with a sexual offence and who are either before the courts, on probation or parole, or on bail, and with a condition to accept/attend treatment/counselling. Participation is mandatory, although some voluntary clients are accepted.

REFERRAL: Probation, provincial parole.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: An outpatient clinic providing assessment and treatment. Assessment includes: pre-sentence report, screening interview, standardized psychological testing, non-standard questionnaires and inventories developed specifically for use with sex offenders. Psychiatric and social work evaluations or nursing assessments may also be included. Treatment consists of a sequenced program, 26 weeks in length, meeting once weekly for two hours, with an emphasis on relapse prevention. Also included are modules on interpersonal communications, stress management, assertiveness, anger management and victim impact. The main emphasis is psycho-educational. Individual counselling is available for special problems and crisis management. Voluntary pharmacological intervention (cyprotorone acetate) is available. Follow-up may be provided on an individual basis or by attendance at a maintenance group led by two probation officers. Length of follow-up is usually dictated by the term of probation/parole. Voluntary attendance beyond expiration is encouraged for some clients. Pre- and post-treatment assessment battery and measures of group participation are made within treatment. Reports on client participation are sent to probation officers at two-month intervals.

REFERRAL: Probation, parole, mental health, child welfare agencies, adult victims of sexual abuse.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A community-based outpatient program providing evening groups. Intake interviews are conducted to determine that: the client accepts at least some responsibility for offences; presence in the group would not be destructive for the group; and intellectual functioning of dull-normal (grade six level). Group treatment averages 18 months in duration before reaching graduation criteria. Treatment is psycho-educational, with part of each session focusing on sexuality, assertiveness or another of the dozen or so modules. As homework, offenders are expected to do one or more of the assignments from the Safer Society Publications Workbooks. No regular follow-up is done. Two years ago, on a one-time basis, follow-up was done to see if offenders had been confronted by police for a subsequent sexual offence over the previous four years.

CONTACT PERSON: Larry Scully, Supervisor

TARGET GROUP: Sex offenders will be accepted on a voluntary basis or may be directed to the service as part of Court ordered treatment where there is some reason to believe that an underlying mental illness or disorder is contributing to the offender's difficulties.

REFERRAL: Self, probation, court services.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A community-based out-patient program providing assessment and treatment. Assessment consists of a psycho-social assessment of the individual, the current family situation and the family of origin. Treatment consists of cognitive restructuring techniques, behaviour management, intervention in family settings, boundary setting, communication, relationship building, accepting of responsibility, power and control issues, intimacy, and management of sexual feelings/behaviour. At this time, group therapy as a treatment modality is not offered, though it is recognized to be a helpful intervention. Primary treatment for sexual offenders is being carried out by Probation Services where an offence has been committed and the offender placed on probation. Risk assessment and risk management are now a routine part of the intervention carried out by Probation Services. Mental Health will be involved if a perceived need is established to address concerns respecting mental status and functioning as an adjunctive service to complement Probation case management. Follow-up is available on an as-needed basis or until the client drops out of the service contract. No program evaluation has been conducted.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:	A community-based program providing assessment, supervision and treatment. Criteria for admission to program include: acceptance of responsibility for offence; willingness to discuss offending behaviour; commitment and ability to participate in and complete program; and Supervised Probation Order with mandatory treatment condition, preferably after completion of a pre-sentence report or Forensic Behaviour Management Assessment. Treatment is provided in three phases. The first phase consists of assessment and individual and group sessions. Offender must accept responsibility for his offence to move on to the second phase. Phase two consists of approximately 60 group sessions (twice a week for three hours from October to June). Offenders are trained to recognize high-risk situations and deal with these in a pro-social manner. The objective is to provide information and skills about risk assessment, risk prediction and risk management, based on relapse prevention theory, research and practice. In the third phase, the group meets once a month for a three-hour session. The focus is on maintaining and building on the skills learned in the second phase and successful maintenance of long-term abstinence of sex offences. Support and supervision is provided in the community.

ADDRESS: 203 — 138 Portage Avenue East
Winnipeg, Manitoba
R3C 0A1

TELEPHONE: (204) 943-7357
FAX: (204) 943-4085

CONTACT PERSON: Lawrence Ellerby, Clinical Coordinator

TARGET GROUP: Sexual and violent offenders, high risk/need adult offenders, juvenile/young adult offenders, mentally handicapped offenders and female offenders (aboriginal and non-aboriginal descent).

REFERRAL: Correctional Service of Canada — parole and penitentiary, provincial corrections and probation, child and family services, courts, hospitals, other social service agencies, self-referral, etc. Clients will only be accepted if they are entering a guilty plea to the charges against them.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: FBMC offers community-based programming and institutional programs at Stony Mountain and Rockwood Institutions. Assessment includes clinical interviews, self-report measures and phallometric assessment. Community-based treatment involves individual and group therapy, with arousal reconditioning and couple counselling as appropriate. Most groups are open and ongoing. Institutional programs include a sex offender group at Stony Mountain and a Relapse Prevention and Maintenance group at Rockwood. The primary treatment includes: accountability for offending; offending cycle; deviant sexual arousal patterns; inappropriate sexual fantasies; denial, minimization, cognitive distortions; victim awareness; empathy; emotional, cognitive, behavioural and situational risk factors contributing to offending; coping skills (problem solving, communication, social skills, emotion awareness, anger management, assertiveness training, managing cognitions, relationship skills, enhancing self-identity); personal victimization; family of origin and socialization; human sexuality; attitudes toward women; relapse prevention; and couple counselling. Follow-up is provided on an information basis. Recidivism rates are tracked for all clients on an ongoing basis.

PROGRAM: Sexual Assault Unit
ORGANIZATION: Community and Youth Corrections (Probation)
ADDRESS: 10 Midland Street
Winnipeg, Manitoba
R3E 2Y6

TELEPHONE: (204) 945-8993
FAX: (204) 948-2164

CONTACT PERSON: William Ryan, Patricia White

TARGET GROUP: Adult sexual offenders on probation. Treatment is mandatory where required by Probation Order. Voluntary participation is encouraged if not Court-ordered.

REFERRAL: Court-ordered probation supervision.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A community-based program located in the Probation office. Assessment focuses on the degree of acceptance of responsibility and on amenability/readiness for the group program. The primary intervention is based on the Relapse Prevention Model for sex offenders as developed by Pithers, Nelson and Marlott. Clients are required to complete a “core” relapse prevention program (approx. 9 months) within a group-based format. Clients are assigned to a less intensive second-level program after the core relapse prevention group. Focus is on skill practice and behavioural monitoring until expiration of probation order. An evaluative component remains in development. Evaluation will focus on individual behaviour change and overall group effectiveness.

FAX: (709) 634-1909

CONTACT PERSON: Stephen Pinsent, M.Ed., Registered Psychologist

TARGET GROUP: Sex offenders and victims.
REFERRAL: Other professionals, self-referral, lawyers.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: An independent private practice providing assessment through self-reports from the offenders of sexual activities with victims after they have obtained legal counsel for sex offence charges. Treatment orientation is primarily cognitive and emphasizes thoughts, feelings, behaviour and interactions, with the aim of client self-control. The major approach deals with the details of the offence and the client's perceptions of the effect of behaviour on the victim and significant others. Aspects of the client's sexual history, both normal and deviant, are assessed. Follow-up depends on the referring agency or on EAP program terms. Program evaluation is based on client self-reports and reports from victims and significant others.

TARGET GROUP: All types of sex offenders, providing they admit their own guilt and accept responsibility. Motivation to seek and continue treatment is also a factor.

REFERRAL: Provincial and Federal correctional institutions.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: The program is delivered under the clinical direction of Dr. William Rowe, with assistance from case management officers, Deanne Taylor and Clare Macaulay. The treatment program offers group, individual, couple and family counselling. Group treatment is divided into three stages, with an emphasis on relapse prevention, and includes: responsibility and denial; cognitive restructuring; interpersonal relationships; anger control; communication skills; victim empathy and restitution; and relapse prevention. Group dynamics address various issues including: individual strengths and weaknesses; interpersonal relationship skills; positive self-rebuilding; offender victimization; and sexual dysfunction. The third stage of treatment provides support services for those who have completed Stages I and II Intensive Group or its equivalent. It is open-ended and designed to accommodate the needs of sex offenders who remain under the supervision of the CSC. Those who have completed their supervision are offered the opportunity to continue treatment. This group emphasizes day-to-day living with regard to the offender's problem areas in a variety of issues. Continuity and follow-up is the major thrust of Stage III. Evaluation includes an evaluation tool administered to offenders following completion of each treatment stage.

TARGET GROUP:	Sex offenders who accept that they have problems and acknowledge the harm inflicted on their victim(s). Candidates must see the value of continued treatment in the community. Participation is mandatory.
REFERRAL:	Federal Parole Board, facilitated through case management or parole officers.
PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:	This program provides both assessment and treatment. Assessment includes psychological and phallometric testing. A battery of psychometric tests are utilized. The treatment approach is cognitive-behavioural, with an emphasis on relapse prevention. Multiple treatment modalities are used, including: behavioural reconditioning, sex education, social skills training, self-control exercises and cognitive restructuring. Group and individual therapy are provided. Group-based interventions are currently taking place on the basis of the type of sex crime (e.g. offence against an adult versus offences against a child) and are augmented by individual modalities if so required (e.g. marital therapy laboratory arousal conditioning, medical consultation and follow-up, and individual psychotherapy). Three groups operate: an entry level group for child molesters; an advanced level group for child molesters; and a general level group for rapists. Duration of treatment is to the end of the offender's warrant. Follow-up services are not provided following warrant expiry date. No program evaluation has been conducted.

TARGET GROUP: Adolescents (male and female) between the ages of 12 and 18 who have been convicted of a sexual offence. Some others are accepted under special circumstances.

REFERRAL: Court, probation, parents, other agencies, self-referral.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A community-based outpatient program providing both assessment and treatment. Assessment involves a comprehensive evaluation of the offender, usually lasting from nine to twelve sessions. Assessment includes: offence behaviours (antecedent behaviours, victim elements, significant others, elements of offence, other deviant behaviours), personal and social functioning, sexual history, psycho-social testing, and recommendations regarding outpatient versus residential (secure) treatment. Treatment includes: group therapy for two hours each week. Groups are open-ended and operate on the school-year calendar. Individual therapy is provided for approximately one hour each week or as needed to address issues inappropriate to the group or to supplement group treatment. Family counselling is provided when possible and as needed. Victim clarification is done when possible. Individuals remain in the program for an average of about two-and-a-half years. Informal follow-up is provided on an open-ended basis. Formal follow-up is available, as requested by clients or parents. Program evaluation is not undertaken at present.

REFERRAL: Parole.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A sex offender program providing both assessment and treatment. Assessment includes the administration of psychometric tests (pre- and post-treatment). Phallometric testing has been requested to be done at the Clarke Institute for clients who have not completed phallometric testing before coming into the program. The treatment program is based on the Sex Offender Treatment and Evaluation Project of the Atascadero State Hospital in Atascadero, California, which was prepared by Craig Nelson, PhD. The manual has been revised to make lessons appropriate for community-based treatment. Both individual and group therapy are provided. The program is divided into three phases: gathering file information, admission assessment and relapse prevention therapy group. The treatment approach is cognitive-behavioural and behaviour therapy. Most of the clients remain in the program until WED. It is hoped that clients will remain for about one year, and some return for longer periods. It is the initiative of the program to work with CSC in the future to follow-up clients on an annual basis. Program evaluation includes: therapist reports; record keeping and records of significant treatment issues; pre- and post-treatment results of psychometric tests; recidivism data from CSC; and third party verification.

TARGET GROUP:	Youth convicted of a sexual offence prior to their 16th birthday (Phase I). Participation is mandatory.
REFERRAL:	Probation, court.
PROGRAM DESCRIPTION:	A community-based outpatient program. Youth are brought to the program from detention facilities. Generally, a complete comprehensive psychiatric assessment (Section 13 under the YOA) has been ordered. Adolescents in treatment are provided the opportunity to change behaviour at an early stage of sexual development. Program goals for the adolescents include: accepting full responsibility for their behaviours/actions; recognizing their need for treatment; re-evaluating their attitudes and values towards sexuality; learning and understanding the dynamics behind their behaviour; and developing healthy patterns of social interaction. The youth's family will also be assisted and supported. Length of stay in the program lasts for the duration of the probation order or sentence (six months to two years). Follow-up services are not provided. Evaluation has been based on recidivism reports. However, Dr. Fred Schmidt is developing other measures.

TARGET GROUP: Adolescent males aged 12 to 16 years who have committed sexually offensive behaviours. Participation is voluntary, although some clients have conditions on their probation orders.

REFERRAL: Probation officers, families, Hincks outpatient department, other therapists, CASAT, other offender groups.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: The program utilizes outpatient viewing rooms with video cameras and one-way mirrors. Staff meet with teens once per week on Tuesdays for a one-and-a-half hour group. Each cycle of the group lasts 14 weeks. Assessment includes an initial in-person intake interview with teen and guardian, and a battery of tests to assess sexual behaviours and anger. The program is based on the Pathways workbook. Homework is assigned and each teen keeps a confidential journal detailing sexual fantasies and thoughts. The group has a primarily educational approach, teaching the difference between appropriate and offensive behaviour. The focus is on keeping the teen and others safe. Individual and family therapy are also offered. For follow-up, the teen is encouraged to seek out community support services as needed. Evaluation of the group's and the individual's progression is ongoing and built-in. A written evaluation is typed up at the end of the cycle.

TARGET GROUP: Adolescents aged 14 to 18. Obligatory participation when ordered by the Court of Québec (Youth Division) and voluntary participation under the Youth Protection Act.

REFERRAL: The Youth Division of the Court of Québec and the Centre jeunesse de la Montérégie [Montérégie youth centre].

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: Clients can be external, when on probation or referred by Youth Protection, or internal, when under custody. Assessments are in the form of psycho-social evaluations. Court-ordered. Interview with the adolescent, acknowledgment of sexual assault. Clients must not fall into the rape category or have a mental health problem that prevents them from participating in a group. Closed groups of six to eight adolescents, 20 two-hour meetings. The treatment consists in making adolescents aware of the unacceptability of their actions and the factors which lead to sexual assault. The relationship between the aggressor and the victim is examined, as well as the contributing factors within the family which result in the use of this kind of outlet for emotional frustration. Emphasis is placed on the adolescents' self-image. Follow-up is done 12 to 18 months later, in conjunction with the probation officer. The program includes an evaluation grid that maps each participant's awareness of the action, acceptance of the problem, communication of his feelings and emotions and involvement in the group.

PROGRAM
DESCRIPTION: This program provides both assessment and treatment. Assessment includes psychometric and phallometric testing (before, during and following treatment). Treatment approach is cognitive-behavioural; individual and group therapy are provided. Intervention has two primary goals: deviant sexual behaviour modification and social adjustment. Three treatment methods are employed to control deviant behaviour: covert sensitization, aversive therapy and satiation. Treatment methods utilized to address social adjustment include social skills and assertiveness training, cognitive restructuring, sex education and relapse prevention. Follow-up is not provided. No formal program evaluation has been conducted.

REFERRAL: Youth Division of the Court of Québec for certain measures, or voluntary measures (Youth Protection).

PROGRAM
DESCRIPTION: The adolescents in this program live with their parents or at a rehabilitation centre (Centre de réadaptation). A person's acknowledgment of his past behaviour determines whether he will be accepted into the program. Adolescents who have a mental deficiency do not qualify for the program. The sessions are two hours a week for 12 weeks. Each session has a theme. The adolescents are expected to discuss the theme in relation to themselves and the sexually aggressive acts they committed. Before starting in the program, participants and their parents are invited to a meeting at which objectives are set and the program is explained to them. All the adolescents receive individual follow-up during and after the sessions. A post-group assessment is done for each participant and a copy is given to the person responsible for the follow-up.

TARGET GROUP: Individuals with problems of sexual deviance, whether or not they are under judicial control: paedophilia, sexual assault, exhibitionism, incest, etc.

REFERRAL:

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A treatment program providing both assessment and treatment. Assessment includes: criminological, psychiatric and sexological assessment. Treatment under the Sex Offender Management and Treatment Program includes: individualized sex therapy, individual follow-up, group therapy, meetings for family and/or close circle, and access to a support group. Treatment is essentially based on the principle of preventing relapses and on the sexual-analytic model. Three types of treatment programs are offered: community program (less severe behavioural disorders); complete program (for those who have not had access to any specific institutional treatment); and the adapted program (for those who have taken part in an institutional program). Treatment phases focus on analysis of high risk situations, evaluation of alternative methods, identification of specific triggering factors and history, and identification of factors leading to recidivism. Duration of program is six to eight months. Since 1993, follow-up is provided through support groups. Meetings are held twice a month during the first six months, and once a month during the following 12 months. Evaluation is conducted through the collection of recidivism rates, services received and post-program follow-up.

TARGET GROUP: High risk adolescent sex offenders who have received a secure custody disposition. Participation is voluntary.

REFERRAL: Secure custody facility youth workers in conjunction with community youth workers.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: An eight-bed residential treatment unit within a young offender secure custody facility. In the assessment component, adolescents are screened for appropriateness for participation in the program, using a structured interview format. The treatment program is primarily a group-based cognitive-behavioural approach in a highly structured and supervised environment. Components include the following groups: offence-specific education, fantasy, 12 steps to recovery, relapse prevention and treatment. Youth also participate in adjunctive individual counselling, regular academic curriculum, pro-social skills and anger management programs. The program is open-ended, with continuous intake. Minimum length in the program is six months. Duration of treatment is dependent on disposition by the courts and progress made by the youth. On release from secure custody, youth are referred to community-based adolescent sex offender treatment programs. Follow-up or continued involvement may be provided in a consultative capacity to the subsequent treatment program if requested. Evaluation is ongoing.

PROGRAM: Maintenance/Supervision Sex Offender Group and the Supervision Relapse Prevention Sex Offender Group

ORGANIZATION: Correctional Service Canada

ADDRESS: 200, 2550 — 15th Avenue
Regina, Saskatchewan
S4P 1A5

TELEPHONE: (306) 780-5051

FAX: (306) 780-6935

CONTACT PERSON: Tony Bouchard

TARGET GROUP: Sex offenders on release in the community through parole services.

REFERRAL: Parole.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: Both weekly groups focus on reviewing the offence cycles and dealing with any high risk problems. While using a relapse prevention strategy, these groups have a cognitive-behavioural approach. Each individual's needs are assessed and the most needy referred to the Regina Mental Health Clinic Sex Offender Program. One group focuses on educating the parolees on relapse prevention as well as monitoring their offence cycle. The present groups ensure that all federal or provincial CSC sexual offenders coming to the Regina area are required to immediately become part of one of CSC's supervision/maintenance and relapse prevention groups.

PROGRAM: Sex Offender Program
ORGANIZATION: Mental Health Clinic
Saskatoon District Health Board
ADDRESS: 165 — 3rd Avenue South
Saskatoon, Saskatchewan
S7K 1L8

TELEPHONE: (306) 665-4000
FAX: (306) 665-4042

CONTACT PERSON: Steven Boechler, Ph.D.

TARGET GROUP: Adults who have been identified as having committed sex offences or are concerned about a risk to offend. Court referrals and voluntary clients are accepted.

REFERRAL: Probation, parole, self-referrals and other professionals.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A community-based out-patient program. Clients are also brought to the program from correctional facilities. Assessments are focused specifically on the sex-offending and suitability for the program. The majority of clients participate in group programming, with some individual counselling as well. Some individual work is also done with clients with special needs who are not suitable for the group programs. A time-limited education group is offered, in conjunction with probation services, as an introductory step. The majority of programming is in open-ended, ongoing groups. The average length of involvement in the program is one to one-and-a-half years. The group program has a cognitive-behavioural base focused on responsibility, relapse prevention and impact upon the victims. Currently, no follow-up is provided. Program evaluation is being developed.

PROGRAM: Adolescent Sexual Offender Treatment Program
ORGANIZATION: Child and Youth Services (MacNeill Clinic)
ADDRESS: 912 Idylwyld Drive
Saskatoon, Saskatchewan
S7L 0Z6

TELEPHONE: (306) 655-4060
FAX: (306) 655-4099

CONTACT PERSON: Phyllis Ohm, Mike Dunphy, Garry Perry

TARGET GROUP: Adolescent sex offenders.
REFERRAL: Youth Court, youth workers, probation, police, lawyers, schools, other agencies.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: This program is housed in a community-based child and youth mental facility. Intake involves Youth Court referrals for Court-ordered psychological assessments and for mandated treatment. Assessment includes: sexual history, clinical interviews, psychological testing, family assessment and collateral information. Treatment model is based on a youth criminogenic model which focuses on assessing and treating risk factors relating to sex offending behaviours and other criminal actions while considering the needs of the youth. The program includes the following components: a psychological assessment; placement in the psycho-educational group; a series of individual and group interventions, which focus on criminogenic life issues. Youth complete an autobiographic assessment and are then placed in the criminogenic group, which focuses on crime cycle, relapse prevention, sex education and skill training. This phase of treatment also includes parental groups. The next phase involves long-term process group work, which focuses on expanding information and skills obtained in criminogenic group while focusing on a variety of internal struggles (e.g. own victimization). In addition, individual and family therapy are offered. Interventions are presented in a culturally sensitive manner. The child and youth facility is currently working on a project in conjunction with a DSS program to jointly share resources to provide a continuum of services to adolescent sex offenders.

TARGET GROUP: Adolescent boys ages 12 to 18. Participation is both mandatory and voluntary.

REFERRAL: Courts, family, youth service workers and outside agencies.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A residential program with an assessment component consisting of stabilization and short term assessment. Treatment orientation is that developed by Ross, Loss and Associates. Sex offender treatment approach includes individual treatment programs and group behavioural work. Follow-up is provided through probation services. There is an ongoing informal program evaluation in place.

PROGRAM: Sex Offender Education Program
ORGANIZATION: Saskatchewan Department of Justice
Saskatchewan Community Corrections
ADDRESS: 122 — 3rd Avenue North
Saskatoon, Saskatchewan
S7K 2H6

TELEPHONE: (306) 933-6324
FAX: (306) 933-5044

CONTACT PERSON: Carla Ground, Coordinator of Sex Offender Programs

TARGET GROUP: Adults who have committed a sexual offence, are concerned about sex offending behaviour, or are at risk for sex offending behaviour and willing to participate and cooperate with the program.

REFERRAL: Self-referral, probation clients, parole clients, Corrections centres.

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION: A community-based program in group rooms at either Probation or Mental Health Services building. Assessment includes: one-to-one interview with client prior to the start of programming to determine risk assessment; eliciting information to help determine clients' insight into his their behaviour; acceptance of responsibility, minimization, life style dynamics, victim issues, etc. Clients are also seen by a psychologist at the Mental Health Clinic who performs testing as needed. Treatment focuses on: identifying individual choices and responsibility regarding offending; education regarding sexual offending issues; individuals identify personal choices regarding their offences and what they need to do to keep safe in the future; and introduction of the relapse prevention model. Duration of treatment is 10 meetings for two and a half hours once per week. Components also include interactive/participatory tasks and home work. Follow-up begins from the first contact to discharge, usually 18 months to two years, the first step in a continuum of programming centred on offending issues, with movement from education to therapy/treatment groups, coupled with one-to-one meetings. Currently the only evaluation in place are clinical observations.

PROGRAM:
ORGANIZATION: Christian Counselling Services

CONTACT PERSON: Dr. Terry Nicholaichuck

TARGET GROUP: Federally incarcerated sexual offenders at high risk of re-offending.
Participation is voluntary.

REFERRAL: Case management or health care workers from Federal prisons in the Prairie Region.

PROGRAM
DESCRIPTION: A 36-bed, eight month inpatient program located within a fully accredited forensic hospital in a Correctional Services of Canada institution. The program has fixed entry/exit points. Assessment includes penile plethysmography, psychological testing and extensive interviewing and feedback. The program utilizes the Relapse Prevention model, a cognitive behavioural approach designed to assist offenders to develop the internal and external self-management skills required to reduce and manage their risk. The program includes sexual arousal reconditioning and group and individual psychotherapy. Patients take advantage of other treatment modalities such as addictions therapy, occupational therapy, recreational therapy, Native Spirituality, educational upgrading, etc. Program staff work closely with the parole officers, the National Parole Board and ancillary organizations to help manage the offender upon his eventual release. The program has a community outreach component, which provides follow-up services to sex offenders released in the Saskatoon area. There is an ongoing research and evaluation component, which assesses recidivism rates, as well as treatment components, which are more useful in helping offenders manage risk.

INTRODUCTION

The National Inventory of Treatment Programs for Child Sexual Abuse Offenders was first published in 1989. The listing has proven to be a valuable resource for individuals, agencies and institutions across Canada and has been updated twice since it was first compiled (1993, 1996). The National Clearinghouse on Family Violence has made some changes to the 1999 Inventory. Information on each program has been updated and, in many cases, now includes an e-mail address. Names of contact persons have been eliminated since these tend to become out of date more quickly. The 1999 Inventory is smaller than its predecessors as it no longer provides program descriptions; however, programs may be contacted directly for further information.

In the 1999 Inventory, programs are listed by province from east to west, and within each province or territory alphabetically by city or town.

If you notice any changes that should be made to the listing or hear of new additions, please let us know. Our address is:

INTRODUCTION

La publication initiale du Répertoire national des programmes de traitement pour auteurs d'agressions sexuelles sur les enfants remonte à 1989. Ce document s'est avéré extrêmement utile comme ressource pour les personnes, agences et institutions partout au Canada, et il a connu deux mises à jour depuis sa compilation (1993, 1996). Le Centre national d'information sur la violence dans la famille a apporté des changements à l'édition de 1999. Les données relatives à chaque programme ont été actualisées et, dans bien des cas, elles contiennent à présent une adresse électronique. Cependant, les noms des personnes ressources (contacts) ont été supprimés étant donné qu'ils deviennent périmés beaucoup plus rapidement. Le répertoire de 1999 est plus compact que les éditions précédentes et il ne contient plus de descriptions de programmes. Toutefois, pour plus de renseignements, il est toujours possible de communiquer directement avec les responsables des programmes.

Dans l'édition de 1999, les programmes sont énumérés par province, d'est en ouest, et alphabétiquement par le nom de la ville ou de la localité dans chaque province ou territoire.

Si vous remarquez qu'il y a des changements ou des ajouts à faire à la liste, veuillez nous en faire part. Notre adresse est :

Introduction

This is the fourth update of the National Inventory of Treatment Programs for Child Sexual Abuse Offenders. It is one of a series of directories prepared by the National Clearinghouse on Family Violence under the Federal Family Violence Initiative.

This updated directory provides a current listing of 196 programs that address the needs of child sexual abuse offenders. The programs are listed by province/territory from the east to west coast and, within each province/territory, alphabetically by town or city.

Each listing describes the program's target group, identifies how an offender is referred to the program, and indicates whether bilingual service is available.

The contact information provided in each listing may include: street or mailing address; administrative telephone number; crisis telephone number; facsimile number; E-mail address; and web site. Some listings also include a toll free number, which is generally accessible only within the local calling area. However, the toll free numbers for the National Clearinghouse on Family Violence can be used across Canada.

Please note that we have not attempted to evaluate the services in this directory.

Introduction

Ceci est la quatrième mise à jour du Répertoire national des programmes de traitement pour les auteurs d'agressions sexuelles sur les enfants. Il fait partie d'une série de répertoires préparés par le Centre national d'information sur la violence dans la famille, dans le cadre de l'Initiative de lutte contre la violence familiale lancée par le gouvernement fédéral.

Ce répertoire présente une liste à jour de 196 programmes qui répondent aux besoins des auteurs d'agressions sexuelles sur les enfants. Les programmes sont énumérés par province et territoire, d'est en ouest, et, dans chaque province et territoire, dans l'ordre alphabétique des municipalités et des villes.

Chaque description indique le groupe cible du programme, la façon dont les auteurs d'agressions sexuelles sont dirigés vers le programme et si des services bilingues sont disponibles.

Les renseignements fournis pour chaque inscription peuvent comprendre l'adresse civique ou postale, le numéro de téléphone administratif, le numéro de téléphone d'urgence, le numéro de télécopieur, l'adresse de courriel et de site Web. Certaines inscriptions comprennent également un numéro de téléphone sans frais, qui n'est habituellement accessible que dans la zone d'appels locaux. Toutefois, les numéros sans frais du Centre national d'information sur la violence dans la famille peuvent être utilisés partout au Canada.

If you are aware of any changes or additions that should be made to these listings, please let us know.
